

When beginning our search for information on college golf scholarships, we had the good fortune of meeting Taronne Atley. She turned out to be such a tremendous help. Her knowledge of the NCAA College and NAIA College Programs is nothing short of superb. She enlightened us about the necessary requirements for entrance into a US college, writing the SAT test was where we started. Our son was in grade 11 when he wrote the SAT test. We discovered the importance of getting started early on the prep work that needs to go into the decision of making a good choice of a college. Taronne's assistance with our research of prospective colleges was extremely helpful. She knew, knowing our son's golf and academic achievements, which colleges from our prospective list would be worth approaching. Approaching via a professionally prepared Academic and Golf resume, again with Taronne's assistance, which would look attractive to the selected college golf program coaches. Taronne's knowledge of the college teams from their ranking position, number of freshmen thru senior year players, athletic scholarship opportunity, as well as where our son could possibly fit into their team and the coaches themselves is very thorough. Our son will be attending Minot State University, a NCAA Division II school, in the fall of 2010 on a golf scholarship as a result of Taronne's help.

Taronne's efforts will be impressive and continual until you're completely satisfied. I would highly recommend Taronne Atley for assisting with locating the right and most fitting college opportunity for your child.

Sincerely,

Brian O'Keefe, CPGA Golf Professional.
