When I first started taking lessons for Taronne, I had heard that she did golf trip schools to Mesquite just outside of Las Vegas. I expressed interest to her and a trip was planned for May. The group was small allowing Taronne to give each of us individual attention.

Mornings were full of practice, every of aspect of the game was covered, putting, chipping, pitching, sand shots & long game. The afternoons were spent on the golf course, each day it was a different course. All our days and games were planned out in advance and when we arrived at our location we were expected and everything was organized for us.

Each evening we went for dinner and our discussions reflected back on the hi-lights of the day. One day we found ourselves playing with Taronne's university golf coach. Leslie Holbert. We also dined with her and heard a lot of tour stories, although we asked her a lot of questions, she took special interest in each one of us.

I had a great week , learning , having fun and making new friends & memories that I will have forever !
